■ ITMO 5-100: Archive 2013-2017

Collaboration with the international council Inbox Malcolm J. Grant I think the constant challenge for all the participating universities is imagining the global context of increasing competition and breaking away from the traditional Russian model of structure and leadership. Philip G. Altbach How do you ensure a 50% ratio between Master's and Bachelor's students? How do you attract foreign staff members (which you have 10%) if you work in such competitive areas as IT? Koenraad Debackere My main reflection concerns the resources (the "oxygen") ITMO needs in order to maintain its drive for excellence and the continuous development of its staff and organization. Michael M. Crow What specific area of photonics do you focus on? Koenraad Debackere 🖂 You have vast collaboration with international partners, what's the degree of integration?

More than a University — First Non-classical University

Philip G. Altbach 🔀 It would be interesting to see this university in three years.

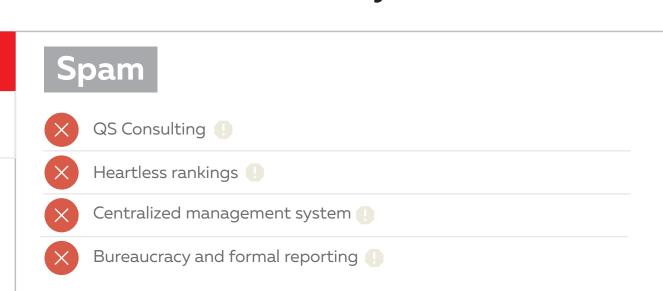

The team - is there a joint strategy and what's the degree of university's involvement, or is it just the five people we see?

New message

To: International Council members

Andrey Volkov

Quality results from the last five years of efforts by the ITMO University team are taking us to a new level.

Programming Language of ITMO University in 2027: ITMO CODE

Advantages of ITMO CODE:

// programs quality
// reflects university's non-classical approach
// focuses on the individual
// is the nucleus of the university's development
